Subject: Woodbridge News Moseley - Representation

Good Morning,

West Midlands Police support the representation made by Birmingham Trading Standards regarding Woodbridge News, 38 Woodbridge Road, Moseley B13 8EJ – premises licence number 2352. The representation is supported under the Prevention of Crime & Disorder and Public Safety Licensing Objectives.

There was a substantial amount of suspect alcohol found at the premises, which later was confirmed as illicit/non duty paid and should not have been on sale in this country.

More often than not the trade in this sort of illicit alcohol is made by cash payments and does not do through 'the books' and no tax is paid.

This trade tends to support organised crime activities and by the premises purchasing such alcohol they are helping to fund further criminal activity.

There is no way that when the premises purchased this alcohol they could have been aware of the origin of the product and they wouldn't have known if it was fit for human consumption, seemingly only being worried about maximising profits with total disregard for public safety.

The fact that the DPS who is also the premises licence holder has not been in contact with Trading Standards. The fact that illicit alcohol was found in his other premises in Moseley, on the same day, all indicates that Mr Zaman has a total disregard for the licensing objectives, public safety and points to a sustained pattern of behaviour with the only concern being maximising his personal gain.

Regards

Chris Jones on behalf of West Midlands Police.

Guidance issued under section 182 of the Licensing Act 2003

Reviews arising in connection with crime states at points:-

11.24 A number of reviews may arise in connection with crime that is not directly connected with licensable activities. For example, reviews may arise because of drugs problems at the premises; money laundering by criminal gangs, the sale of contraband or stolen goods, the sale of firearms, or the sexual exploitation of children. Licensing authorities do not have the power to judge the criminality or otherwise of any issue. This is a matter for the courts. The licensing authority's role when determining such a review is not therefore to establish the guilt or innocence of any individual but to ensure the promotion of the crime prevention objective.

11.25 Reviews are part of the regulatory process introduced by the 2003 Act and they are not part of criminal law and procedure. There is, therefore, no reason why representations giving rise to a review of a premises licence need be delayed pending the outcome of any criminal proceedings. Some reviews will arise after the conviction in the criminal courts of certain individuals, but not all. In any case, it is for the licensing authority to determine whether the problems associated with the alleged crimes are taking place on the premises and affecting the promotion of the licensing objectives. Where a review follows a conviction, it would also not be for the licensing authority to attempt to go beyond any finding by the courts, which should be treated as a matter of undisputed evidence before them.

11.26 Where the licensing authority is conducting a review on the grounds that the premises have been used for criminal purposes, its role is solely to determine what steps should be taken in connection with the premises licence, for the promotion of the crime prevention objective. It is important to recognise that certain criminal activity or associated problems may be taking place or have taken place despite the best efforts of the licence holder and the staff working at the premises and despite full compliance with the conditions attached to the licence. In such circumstances, the licensing authority is still empowered to take any appropriate steps to remedy the problems. The licensing authority's duty is to take steps with a view to the promotion of the licensing objectives in the interests of the wider community and not those of the individual licence holder.

11.27 There is certain criminal activity that may arise in connection with licensed premises which should be treated particularly seriously. These are the use of the licensed premises:

- for the sale and distribution of drugs controlled under the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 and the laundering of the proceeds of drugs crime;
- for the sale and distribution of illegal firearms;
- for the evasion of copyright in respect of pirated or unlicensed films and music, which does considerable damage to the industries affected;
- for prostitution or the sale of unlawful pornography;
- by organised groups of paedophiles to groom children;
- as the base for the organisation of criminal activity, particularly by gangs;
- for the organisation of racist activity or the promotion of racist attacks;
- for knowingly employing a person who is unlawfully in the UK or who cannot lawfully be employed as a result of a condition on that person's leave to enter;
- for unlawful gambling; and
- for the sale or storage of smuggled tobacco and alcohol.

11.28 It is envisaged that licensing authorities, the police and other law enforcement agencies, which are responsible authorities, will use the review procedures effectively to deter such activities and crime. Where reviews arise and the licensing authority determines that the crime prevention objective is being undermined through the premises being used to further crimes, it is expected that revocation of the licence – even in the first instance – should be seriously considered.

Licensing Enforcement Team Recommendations to the Licensing Committee

As a Licensing Authority Birmingham City Council must carry out its licensing functions with a view to promoting the licensing objectives contained in the Act.

The Act is clearly intended to prevent crime and disorder in relation to premises, as well as deter and prevent unscrupulous persons from operating illegally under the authorisation of a premises licence.

Selling smuggled and counterfeit goods is not a victimless crime but one that affect society as a whole. Persons involved in smuggling, or the sale of smuggled and illicit alcohol are actively:-

- Supporting organised crime;
- Breaking the law;
- Putting the safety of the public at risk as traders cannot know if the good they are selling are counterfeit products that could harm, or cause serious risk to the health of the consumers; and
- Causing huge losses to the UK's tax revenue.

As a Licensing Authority Birmingham City Council must be seen to take decisive action to deter such criminal activities and ensure that no-one is permitted to profit by operating illegally.

Any trader knowingly purchasing and selling illicit alcohol is acting illegally, putting the safety of customers at risk and seriously undermining the licensing objectives relating to the:-

- Prevention of Crime and Disorder;
- Public Safety;

Given that Mr Zaman holds two premises licences and illicit alcohol was identified at both premises on the same day and the Licensing Enforcement Team recommends the Licensing Sub Committee consider revocation of the premises licence granted to him in respect of Woodbridge News.

Part 4:

Public Health response

Licensing Objective	Response
The prevention of crime and disorder	The illicit trade in tobacco, alcohol and pharmaceuticals is often more attractive to organised criminals than, for example, drug trafficking, given that it is a low-risk and high-value activity. The high profit margins associated with illicit trade are used to fund other criminal activities – a fact not widely understood by the British public<sup>2</sup> Research suggest that Organised Crime Groups (OCGs) are involved at all stages of the supply chain, from the suppliers to those holding goods in duty suspense, hauliers, excise warehouses, lock-ups and cash-and-carry stores, corner shops and other outlets<sup>2</sup> The proceeds from OCGs can find their way into other activities including Child sexual exploitation cyber-crime, drugs, illegal firearms, modern slavery and human trafficking, kidnap and extortion, money laundering<sup>3</sup>
Public safety	Commonly used substitutes for ethanol include chemicals used in cleaning fluids, nail polish remover and automobile screen wash, as well as methanol and isopropanol which are used in antifreeze and some fuels<sup>1</sup> Drinking alcohol containing these chemicals can cause nausea and vomiting, abdominal pain, drowsiness and dizziness. It can also lead to kidney or liver problems and even coma. Methanol, a substance which can be used in fake vodka, may cause permanent blindness or death.<sup>1</sup>
The prevention of public nuisance	N/A
The protection of children from harm	Counterfeit alcohol is often linked to OCG<sup>2</sup>. Unfortunately, the proceeds of OCG can be linked to other illegal activities which can include Child Sexual Exploitation and human trafficking. In Birmingham, circa 20,000 children are affected by parental alcohol problems<sup>4</sup>
Summary: The retailer showed a complete disregard for Public Health by purchasing for re-sale to the general public items which he did not know the provenance, and could therefore have proven injurious to the general public – this cannot be tolerated. Counterfeit alcohol is often linked to OCGs – Birmingham has seen the direct impact of OCGs on more than one occasion – any action that supports OCG cannot be tolerated. We know that alcohol related issues<sup>5</sup> in Birmingham cost in the region of £200 million per year<sup>5</sup>. We support the review of this licence as there is no place in Birmingham's licensed alcohol community for people who choose to engage with and promote the supply chain of counterfeit alcohol, the sale of counterfeit alcohol, and therefore contribute to the primary and secondary impacts that can arise from this type of activity.

Please state the ground(s) for review (please read guidance note 2)

On 24 August 2016 Birmingham Trading Standards Enforcement Officer Paul Ellson assisted by West Midlands Police Licencing Officer Chris Jones and Licensing Enforcement Officer Teresa Wilde from Birmingham City Council's Licensing Section visited Woodbridge News 38 Woodbridge Road, Moseley, Birmingham B13 8EJ. The Premises Licence holder for this premise is Mr Omer Zaman.

Officers entered the premise at 13.15 pm. A woman was standing behind the counter and Officer Ellson identified himself and the other officers present.

The woman gave her name as Kaneez Fatima and said that she was an employee of Mr Omer Zaman, the licence holder for the premises.

Officer Ellson informed Ms Fatima that he had reasonable grounds to suspect that there was some illegal alcohol on the premises. He issued her with a Code B Inspection Notice under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 and other required information.

Ms Fatima signed the documents and was given copies for the Premises Licence Holder.

During the course of the inspection Officer Ellson found 2 bottles of High Commissioner Whisky on the shelving behind the counter. These bottles had the classic signs of an illicit/non-duty paid product in that the front label of the bottle was labelled "Blended Scotch Whisky" but the back label had "Old Scotch Whisky" on it.

There were also 12 bottles of Glens Vodka which had poor quality back labels which are a classic sign of an illicit/non-duty paid product; these were found hidden under the sink in the kitchen.

There was no illicit stock found in any of the stockrooms in the shop or the one outside in the garden.

A total of 14 bottles of suspected illicit/non-duty paid items were removed from the premises.

A Traders Notice for the products was issued to Ms Fatima as a receipt which she duly signed and received a copy. There were no other illicit/non-duty items found on the premises at this time.

Subsequently a sample of the seized products was sent to Loch Lomond Group, who is the manufacturers, for examination and for them to comment on the authenticity of the products.

On 30 September 2016 the Governance Manager for Loch Lomond, Euan Birrell confirmed that all the High Commissioner Whisky and the Glen's Vodka had counterfeit back labels applied. These incorporated a fake UK Duty Paid stamp.

One of the sample bottles had been damaged in transit but examination was still possible and there was no doubt that this bottle also had a counterfeit back label attached.

Please provide as much information as possible to support the application (please read guidance note 3)

Although only 14 bottles of illicit alcohol (i.e. non-duty paid and counterfeit back labels) were found it was a considerable amount of stock in the shop was so poorly stocked, it represented a significant amount of their available supply.

All of the bottles of alcohol were found to have counterfeit UK duty stamped labels applied to the back of the bottles. This implies that they can be legally sold in the UK. However this is not the case as the bottles were originally intended for export and as such are not legal for sale in this country. They cannot be purchased by any legal means in the UK and can only have been supplied illegally.

The products were intended to be sold abroad as no UK duty has been paid on them and they have been diverted into this country by some illicit means at best through smuggling routes if not by other illegal means. Much of this is done by organised criminal gangs who pay no tax on the products and undermine legitimate trade in the process.

More often than not the trade is by means of cash only transactions with no traceability of where products have been obtained from, which makes it impossible to trace the source in case of problems with the products contents. There is a requirement on retailers to be able to trace the provenance of food products they supply.

Those buying such items are well aware that such products may present problems as the products will be supplied to them by illegitimate means and as they are passing them on to members of the public they should act more responsibly.

When there have been scares about unsafe spirits being supplied that are injurious to public health it is always when they are illicit products, such as the ones found at these premises. Although none of the products found were injurious to health on this occasion, the retailer has shown a complete disregard by purchasing them illegally.

If traders act unscrupulously in the process of purchasing cheap products this can only lead to the conclusion they act the same way in dealing with members of the public they are supposed to serve in passing off UK Duty paid when it is not.

Where these items came from is anyone's guess. Buying these items from anyone other than an authorised wholesaler should automatically alert the Licence holder that the products are of a dubious origin and/or illegal in nature. Such "under the counter" or "off a back of a lorry" transactions are unlikely to have gone through its books of the business.

Given the seriousness of this matter Trading Standards would ask the Committee to consider all the available options when reviewing the Licence of the premises.

Additional Information:

The premises licence holder and owner of the business is Mr Omer Zaman. He is also the Designated Premises Supervisor for the premises.

Mr Zaman has offered no explanation of his actions or reason for the items being in his possession. At the time of writing this review he has not had the decency to reply to a letter requesting an interview sent to him on 17 October 2016. This letter was sent to his home address

Bearing in mind that Mr Zaman is a relatively "new" licence holder; it was granted on 21 December 2016 it is concerning that he appears to total disregard for such serious matters that may affect his Licence radically and irreversibly.

Mr Zaman has another alcohol licence for a second premises "Moseley Wines" 44 St. Marys

Row just around the corner where a further 23 bottles of illicit/non-duty paid bottles of alcohol were seized on the same day.

This is why he was unable to attend the premises of Woodbridge News on day of the inspection and seizure as he was at Moseley Wines; the premises which the officers had left earlier that day. Once again no explanation has been offered, clearly a demonstration of total disregard for the law and the Council's efforts to regulate the Licensing environment.

To have hidden the 12 bottles of Glen's Vodka under the sink in the kitchen indicates that Mr Zaman must have known that they were illegal.

The 2 bottles of High Commissioner Whisky found at the site had the same batch ID code as the High Commissioner Whiskey found at Mr Zaman's other premise Moseley Wines; quite clearly they were purchased together from the same source. Therefore it must be Mr Zaman's intention to purchase cheap alcohol and to supply it to the public.

The criminal legislation applicable is the Trade Marks Act 1994, the Consumers Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008 as well as Food Safety Legislation and HMRC offences for evasion of Duty.

In this case it appears that Mr Zaman has done absolutely nothing to carry out any checks whatsoever on the products he supplied. It appears that he has not met the licensing objectives in dealing in illegal products.

Dealing in such goods brings crime into neighbourhoods and will affect the reputation of the area. If they are willing to deal in illegal products then other criminal matters are likely to occur.

Annex 1 – Mandatory Conditions

No supply of alcohol may be made under the premises licence (a) at a time when there is no designated premises supervisor in respect of the premises licence, or (b) at a time when the designated premises supervisor does not hold a personal licence or his personal licence is suspended.

Every retail sale or supply of alcohol made under this licence must be made or authorised by a person who holds a personal licence.

The premises licence holder or club premises certificate holder must ensure that an age verification policy is adopted in respect of the premises in relation to the sale or supply of alcohol. The designated premises supervisor in relation to the premises licence must ensure that the supply of alcohol at the premises is carried on in accordance with the age verification policy. The policy must require individuals who appear to the responsible person to be under 18 years of age (or such older age as may be specified in the policy) to produce on request, before being served alcohol, identification bearing their photograph, date of birth and either— (a) a holographic mark, or (b) an ultraviolet feature.

(1) A relevant person shall ensure that no alcohol is sold or supplied for consumption on or off the premises for a price which is less than the permitted price. (2) In this condition:— (a) "permitted price" is the price found by applying the formula  $P = D + (D \times V)$ , where— (i) P is the permitted price, (ii) D is the amount of duty chargeable in relation to the alcohol as if the duty were charged on the date of the sale or supply of the alcohol, and (iii) V is the rate of value added tax chargeable in relation to the alcohol as if the value added tax were charged on the date of the sale or supply of the alcohol; (b) "duty" is to be construed in accordance with the Alcoholic Liquor Duties Act 1979; (c) "relevant person" means, in relation to premises in respect of which there is in force a premises licence— (i) the holder of the premises licence, (ii) the designated premises supervisor (if any) in respect of such a licence, or (iii) the personal licence holder who makes or authorises a supply of alcohol under such a licence; (d) "relevant person" means, in relation to premises in respect of which there is in force a club premises certificate, any member or officer of the club present on the premises in a capacity which enables the member or officer to prevent the supply in question; and (e) "value added tax" means value added tax charged in accordance with the Value Added Tax Act 1994. (3) Where the permitted price would not be a whole number of pennies, the permitted price shall be taken to be the price rounded up to the nearest penny. (4) Where the permitted price on a day ("the first day") would be different from the permitted price on the next day ("the second day") as a result of a change to the rate of duty or value added tax, the permitted price which would apply on the first day applies to sales or supplies of alcohol which take place before the expiry of the period of 14 days beginning on the second day.
