Most customers would be more likely to walk, bus or taxi than drive. Looking forward to visiting the restaurant.

Mina Gyan great to hear a restaurant other than Indian opening up in Boldmere. Nice to know we got another choice. Most restaurants in Boldmere have no parking and local people walk or get taxis hence especially if alcohol served. Looking forward to it x

Rebecca thanks Rebecca it wasn't made clear whether she had a drive or not. You'd like to think people are courteous to how they park but not always the case. I don't think you can stop people using on street parking if it is legal i.e not causing an obstruction. It's not really up to the restaurant to dictate how they travel. I've certainly never booked a meal anywhere to be told I should walk or get a taxi. I think everyone should give the restaurant a chance and see how it goes after all people use to park round there to use the shop when it was operational.

Mina Gyan - Good luck to you and your team!

I wouldn't worry or stress yourself much about comments regarding parking or such things.

Boldmere is a very small zone with many eateries.

All of which have very limited if at all any parking.

But that aside, I really look forward to your business opening as I feel it will be a fantastic addition to Boldmere and the people within the community.

Please keep us updated and best of luck to you all.

Mina Gyan it will be lovely to have somewhere to get lovely fresh salads from rather than just a curry. Are you a takeaway too? I didnt realise the premises was big enough to have dine in.

Mina Gyan I can't wait for this restaurant to open I've lived in this area all my life the parking has always been an issue - there's never any parking in boldmere with all the restaurants and bars I can't see how one small family run restaurant with quality food could be a negative - these comments are ridiculous ask the council about parking!!

Good luck to you

Its good that you are providing some parking spaces as this is a real issue in the area. I love Syrian / Iranian / Lebanese style food, and hope that you can find a way to coexist with your neighbours in a residential area without disturbing them. I hope to visit you when you open with my family (I live on Jockey Road) and will be walking there.

Mina Gyan good on you for opening an independent business during a tough climate.

Ignore any negative comments, some people just like to moan.

I will be a customer of yours once you are opened and I look forward to trying some grilled Mediterranean food with a nice beer.

Best of luck with this new business. 👍

Hi everyone, I'm Mina new owner of 373-375 jockey road. From the moment I started the renovation I'm involved with the neighbours through phone etc. I'm trying to keep the noise down even now with renovating this will also be the same while the restaurant opens. I really would appreciate it if the neighbours who have concerns or questions to knock my door or contact me as a lot of friendly neighbours have done already. I'm opening a Mediterranean charcoal grill restaurant with food and dessert fresher than fresh! Obviously people who have a nice meal would want a cold beer or wine with it. That's why I made my application to serve alcohol. Birmingham city council have already approved my food business as I

Christopher

Kate it will make very little difference in reality! It has been non residential for over 30yrs, the high street is an endangered species now! If someone has taken the gamble and financial risk to try to build a new biz and put some life into an eye sore of an empty premises, FairPlay to them!! I Totally support this venture!! 🙌
