1	Strongly agree	I strongly agree with the affordable aspect as many choices are restricted by cost.	Agree	The top bullet is the relevant one. as this should already encompass bullet two.	Disagree	Disagree	Disagree	Strongly disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	I think often the groups named above often have the opportunity to access better health opportunities because of where they visit, they see more adverts/signposts, often receive discounts, may have opportunities offered to them because they may access medical outlets more often. It's the people who sit at home and don't access local services that need to be targeted for improved health.
2	Disagree	Similar statements have been made for the last 50 years, but nothing in reality has changed. There continues to be disparity between rich and poor and service provisions. SAME people continue to be worse affected. There is nothing 'bolder' about your strategy.	Strongly agree	No problem with headline but issue with practicality, why make a statement if you cannot deliver.	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Adequately resources service provision based on inequalities/ deprivation needs to be seriously considered going forward.
3	Don't know	You have failed on delivering so many 'visions', this will be no different. This is all talk AGAIN. You can't use local footpaths because they are so badly maintained and overgrown. Surely being able to walk locally would be an important part of the vision yet you have failed to deliver on basics. Lets face it this is not a city that treats everybody fairly	Strongly disagree	You don't listen and you make many choices that have negative effects and you either choose to ignore the issues or are incompetent at making decisions.	Strongly disagree	Agree	Strongly disagree	Strongly disagree	Strongly agree	I don't believe you truly understand inequalities and that you are playing around the edges. What about the inequalities of threats of violence from groups in some areas. Why are you pursuing cycling measures onto the exclusion of all others when my 81 year old mom cant physically use a bike. You have done nothing for her and yet you celebrate this.

These things tend to reduce down to lots of words but little action.
8	Strongly agree	However, this is not a measurable goal YOU NEED TO INCLUDE AN ACTION PLAN WITH OBJECTIVES!!!	Strongly disagree	1) Focusing on citizens isn't useful or even informing practice by their experience, you need to collaborate with the public. Same old approach, same old problems. 2) Inequality is not the end point. In fact it is a poor effort and rather unambitious. Aim to reduce inequality and promote EQUITY. You could be more innovative and strive for JUSTICE! 3) I'm keen to find out what you constitute as research-enabled action. The wording makes me think this is a quick and dirty way rather than a robust and empirical methodology	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Disagree	Disagree	There is far too much focus on marginalized groups that for sure have inequalities. Whilst these groups have problems, it is almost like a scapegoat to push the director's agenda. The BAME and LGBT communities are important but seem to be the only focus. More needs to be done around lesser heard stigmatised and disadvantaged communities/individuals.

Therefore equalities as a result of ethnic origin should be prioritised above others. 27	Neither agree nor disagree	We can all help to improve our environment however in current times and with the cost of living escalating out of control, services being cut through budget restrictions and restricted access to hospitals and doctors surgeries the vision has to have a much longer time scale as current pressures are impacting not just on physical health but far more on the mental health of the current population which is putting further pressure on restricted services. 60	Neither agree nor disagree	I do not disagree, but we heard the same thing ten years ago. Inequality of health in area is easily identified through local health records and local plans. Ten years on health in this area has declined rapidly even though it was recognised ten years before, as having health inequalities. Due to decisions made for the area, not with the people who live here, we have experienced decisions made in this area by Authorities, has had a significant detrimental effect on local health. The impact from the increase in Air Noise and light pollution and polluting industries has increased the health inequalities in this area due to decisions by senior Authorities without mitigating those decisions.	Agree		Agree	Agree	Agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	It could be improved by equality of administration of process, law, policy, and procedure. If there was equality of administration, then certain areas usually deprived areas would be protected by Air Pollution law, planning law, enforcement law, inclusion, highway law but they are not.
61	Strongly agree		Strongly agree	All too often services are not citizen focused. 70	Agree	Many people understand the value of life and many try and eat healthy. Health is more effected by Environment, and many living in poor environments are excluded from changes made in the area which are usually not Environmentally healthy if its a deprived area.	Agree	Citizen focus if you live in a affluent postcode of Birmingham or over the south side. You have been focused on reducing inequalities for many years but the inequalities are wider and worse than ever. As far as data is concerned waste of money as you have crime rates, SIMD areas, drugs, pollution, speeding, Noise Pollution, 24 hr traffic noise, no enforcement, litter fly tipping. This is inequality as there is a law covering everyone of these problems but Bias and institutional racism fail to be enforced in one area, whilst fully enforced in another.					Strongly agree	Birmingham like South Africa clear white areas and clear black areas, not saying there are no deprived white areas as there is and they experience the same inequalities. Been getting wider under this council and more identifiable by many living in communities.

73	Strongly agree	The Vision Statement, in theory, is right, however, when putting this in practice, that's where there are failures. There needs to be more integrated service delivery and a more joined up approach with stakeholders. Inequalities need to be addressed.	Strongly agree	Citizen focused and informed by citizens lived experience. Consciously focused on reducing inequalities and promoting equality and inclusion. Data and evidence informed, and research enabled action. Are all important factors - lets put them into action.	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree

76	Strongly agree	In order to create this vision, resources and support must be prioritised for more vulnerable groups such as BAME with pre existing health inequalities and chronic conditions compared to other citizens or groups who have a much better start in life and choices.	Agree	Recent data and evidence must be used especially coming out of the pandemic that have hit specific communities the hardest and focused in helping to enable action. 85	Strongly agree	I think this is great, the vision should be inclusive of physical and mental health support etc. for those who need this.	Agree	I do agree - however, there are groups of people not strongly represented in data sets who additionally need help and inclusivity. I believe the data should focus on the amount of people dealing with x or y and the severity of how that impacts their life. For instance there will be a small amount of people who all have the same experience which is severely affecting their lives - just because this is say 3 to 3% of the population does not mean that they should not be given the support required because there is less of them; especially if the effect on their lives is severe.	Agree	Strongly agree	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	I think that an addition should be made and this should be mental health. Not all mental health conditions fall under 'disability' and it is often difficult for those with long term or short term mental health conditions to obtain 'disability' status. There is still a stigma unfortunately around mental health and there is a large impact on people's lives which, in my opinion, is still being ignored.
86	Strongly agree		Neither agree nor disagree	Not all citizens voices are heard. Unless seldom heard groups are linked to organisations/community groups some voices will go unheard due to personal commitments (i.e. caring duties) and may not have access to or aware of the strategy proposed.	Agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	It's worthy to note that inequalities occur amongst all groups in society. High level of inequalities may be associated with disadvantaged groups, however people in affluent areas also experience poor health due to being asset rich, cash poor therefore affected by loneliness, dementia, etc. This must be taken in consideration when levelling up health economies.
87	Strongly agree	How are you going to measure success? What will a healthier City look like - while I really do agree with this I've not idea and I guess you may not have either of what this means in practice - how will it influence system, place and neighborhood level decision making. How does it join up with the ICUIB and FCN model that is now being put in place. Where does it sit with plans for developments such as road, rail and cycling changes. How will it influence planning decisions for example? How will you make sure that people live in affordable homes that are heated with clean energy? Its in danger of being hugely sloed thinking and of missing the considerable eggs there are at the moment	Strongly agree	Again - what does this really mean in practice? how will this influence your design and delivery of services against a backdrop of years of underfunding and poor investment	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Again what will this mean in reality how will anyone know whether you're making progress?

91	Agree	It would be difficult not to agree with such a vision. However, your record of delivering your visions is appalling and I see no likelihood of improvement only talking the talk. You lack the integrity to deliver and delivery is not consistent across the geography of Birmingham.	Strongly disagree	This not about equality as much as it is about achieving certain minimum standards. In south west Birmingham accessibility (transport) is very poor and you will do nothing to improve this and yet this is a key part of levelling up for this area.	Agree	Agree	Disagree	Strongly disagree	Strongly agree	You have a track record of investing in some areas over others and not following the principles you describe. You abandoned the Frankley Branch when this would have improved access to jobs and other opportunities for one of the more deprived areas in Birmingham. You have not demonstrated that your 'philosophy' has improved. Birmingham does not finish at Selly Oak and yet major investment ends there. Longbridge saw the loss of 6000 jobs to be replaced with promises of 10000 jobs. The developer has made vast profits off this because you have let this employment site become a retail park and housing development and TSB Modwens have reaped the financial benefits. This shows poor understanding and capabilities on your part as there are many other examples including the Birmingham transport plan which is terribly flawed and will strangle the future of Brum.

103	Strongly agree	Word soup with not much tangible action promised. Sounds like an election campaign full of empty promises. HOW are you planning to achieve this? Huge change at central government level is needed to accomplish this. CMS, DWP, UC, NHS, the care system, SEN provision, CFS, legal aid, housing standards, and the education sector would need entirely overhauling to achieve this. Is that in your plan?	Strongly agree	"Right" = very non-specific generic statement. The issues are extremely clear, constantly asking the same questions isn't going to move anyone further forwards. The CMS needs completely overhauling. CMS did need to be more aggressively chased and enforced, wait times need to be significantly cut down, fees for resident parents must be scrapped entirely. DWP sanctions need to be overhauled with regulations that NO family with children under the age of 18 are ever left destitute for any reason. Education system needs to be brought into the 21st century with children being taught coding, financial, life, and healthy relationship skills from primary school. Children leaving secondary school should all be able to understand how interest works, mortgages, basic economy, budgeting skills, how credit reports	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Neither agree nor disagree	There's no explanation of how you propose to address these issues

Strongly agree		Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	The over-representation of HMDs in the Erdington ward is causing huge problems - a massive rise in deprivation and antisocial behaviour, overcrowding, community disruption, and overloading of healthcare and other social facilities in the area. Proper regulation of the companies running HMDs, while not on the surface a healthcare action in itself, would improve not only the health and wellbeing of their tenants, but everyone in the wider community affected by the preponderance of these facilities.
115	Strongly agree	I THINK YOU NEED TO PRIORITISE CLEAN AIR ABOVE ALL ELSE -- all other things will consequently be improved if we get that right! Less traffic -- more community interaction -- less health-related problems. Never forget Eli Kisi Debra who died tragically far too young because of the polluted air she was breathing in Lewisham. So improving air quality by reducing traffic and improving and promoting public transport should be one of your action principles! 119	Strongly agree		Strongly agree	"We appreciate we occur" = principles of action on reducing inequalities and promoting equality and inclusion, and the need for it to be citizen focused. The importance of citizen participation in policy-making has been highlighted in the recent OECD report (Government at a Glance 2017). A citizen-based approach to action can also promote social inclusion for individuals and communities experiencing marginalisation by considering the role of local communities and civic associations in improving people's health and wellbeing. 120	Strongly agree	This response has been prepared by the Centre for Economics of Obesity, University of Birmingham. Our research measures the economic value of interventions that target the spectrum of factors that affect population obesity. It is from this perspective that we have written our response. We strongly support the vision statement. We are particularly supportive of the emphasis on tackling inequalities and addressing the wider determinants of health and wellbeing.	Agree	However, we feel that the principles for action should also include a statement alluding to the roles and responsibilities of the multiple stakeholders and the need for accountability to deliver on the actions. Furthermore, a comprehensive citizen participation strategy could help promote the involvement of citizens in policy-	Strongly agree	Agree	Agree	Agree	Strongly agree	Action must be taken to address the disproportionate rates of chronic ill-health such as obesity within some population subgroups. It is important that the strategy not only acknowledges this but that it includes specific actions to address it. System-wide actions are required across sectors to level-up and measures focused on deprivation, environment and system changes need to be prioritised. We also recommend the strategy must prioritise actions that will have sustainable impact. Evidence shows that action that focus solely on education and behaviour change are likely to have a negative impact on equity, so policies that change the structural conditions and daily living conditions should be prioritised. 107	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	But much in planning decisions that are now irreversible has mitigated against these improvements over the last 20 years and the costs to clubs of using council parks to premise activities has priced many of them out of the market.	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	The reduction in green spaces is going to make this difficult. The wear and tear on our local green spaces during the pandemic shows just how difficult maintenance of safety and standards will be if we reach this goal. The presence of drug dealing and use in many of the spaces available for recreation also puts people off.
108	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Promotion of Birmingham's great parks on your doorstep may be one area to explore. Among many others	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Strongly agree	I would say Reduce the % of mortality attributable to particulate air pollution to zero by 2030 Increase the utilisation of outdoor space for exercise/health reasons to over 50% by 2028. I walk from Birmingham New Street station to my of place of work in Netchells occasionally instead of getting off at Duddeston Station. I hardly ever see people on foot walking from Duddeston to Birmingham city centre. In Bristol, where I previously lived, it was far more common. I would walk from my home in the Whitelabel area to Bristol city centre. I would feel safer as more people walk there.
109	Neither agree nor disagree	Agree	Agree	Disagree	We need to recognise that physical activity is hard for multiple and complex reasons, and that fixing it takes money. Where is that money coming from? For example, short winter days mean that outside activity at night or in the morning is going to happen in the dark. Many people don't feel safe running or jogging in the dark: how can that be changed? Cramped shared housing mean at home workouts aren't possible, and yet a gym is expensive and can often be unwelcoming. How can that be changed? Even if a person does want to walk or cycle frequently, the state of Birmingham roads means this isn't always a safe option. There's no recognition here of the infrastructure projects that would make more active travel possible and pleasant	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	I agree with all of this, but there has been massive and consistent underinvestment in Birmingham's parks for at least a decade. Will this be reversed? Will new parks be created in parts of the city lacking them? Will there be investment to keep those parks clean, safe, and pleasant? My local park is always full of fly tipping and often broken glass, there's no way I'd take a child or a dog there. I shouldn't have to drive to a park in a more affluent area of the city just to have a pleasant green space.

113	Agree	Agree	Agree	Agree	Citizens need to feel safe when walking or cycling. This isn't so in many wards in this city. There are a lot of parks etc across the city but few where you can feel safe To improve air quality you need to address public transport issues. Not only green buses etc but safety on public transport. The amount of rubbish lying around also needs to be addressed both by clearing and prevention. Rubbish encourages vermin which in turn puts people off of exercising
114	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	The ability to be active is hugely impacted by working hours, caring responsibilities, access to safe outdoor space, and underlying physical and mental health. People struggling with grinding poverty and disability really don't need added pressure to "exercise more" as if that's some magical bullet that will make their lives all better. The ability and time to live an "active life" is a massive privilege, and in many if not most cases entirely the luck of the draw. Some groups may prefer female only spaces or a group that isn't overly reliant on the pub being a main source of socialisation before/during/after the activity. Other people may be nervous starting their physical activity journey and may want to start with non competitive sports to build confidence. So please don't make this about competitive sports only as that may end up putting off the very types of people you wish to encourage.	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Public spaces like "winter garden" are more welcome space for people by installing cafes/visitor centres and covered outdoor seating. If they are busier due to these facilities, this will also help women feel safer using them. These buildings would also offer toilet facilities for women because don't forget younger women menstruate and that could put them off exercising outdoors if there are no facilities. Birmingham doesn't have much in the way of covered, well ventilated outdoor space. There is the lovely Winter Garden in Sheffield for inspiration. These types of spaces would also be considered safe and be well-used in the event of another airborne pandemic due to the well ventilated shelter they would provide. Simpler constructions than the Sheffield Winter Garden could be made if cost is an issue, but it just needs to be

120	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	We welcome the focus on physical activity as a means to promote population health and wellbeing, however as well as an overarching aim to reduce physical inactivity by 2030, shorter- and medium-term achievable targets need to be set. A recent report showed that the current % of physically inactive adults in Birmingham is at around 30%. In practice, reducing that proportion to 20% would mean a shift upwards of 150,000 adults to a "non-inactive" status within a 9-year time span. This is an ambitious goal. Targeted and tailored strategies need to be carefully designed to ensure that changes in physical behaviours are sustainable, both from a behavioural (e.g., activities that fit into people's daily lives) and an economic perspective (affordability and cost-effectiveness). There are some considerations to make in this	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	Strongly agree	We strongly agree with the actions set out within theme 4. They are broad overarching ambitions but it is not clear how tangible these actions are and who will be responsible and accountable with delivering on them. We would argue that there is a need for a whole system taking responsibility rather than placing responsibility on individuals or families to create change. An upstream approach to prevention is needed, where more financial support would be given to multidisciplinary teams within local authorities to create a dialogue with communities and target interventions/services to disadvantaged population groups. Furthermore, we recommend an additional action to: -Work with our partners to understand the value of our green and blue space as assets within an

In addition to the action points listed, we recommend that the actions are expanded to incorporate strategies to detect chronic physical and mental health conditions. This is particularly relevant given the immense burden and costs for society associated with these conditions (Vign et al., 2020; Kessler et al., 2016; Theodore et al., 2023; Department of Health and Social Care, 2022). Furthermore, timely detection can contribute to the reduction of health inequalities to chronic conditions and more prevalent among deprived population groups (Department of Health and Social Care, 2022).
